411 GHS ALUMNI ATTEND DINNER; GIVE AWARDS, HOLD REUNIONS

Four hundred eleven of the approximately 3,500 alumni of Gettysburg High School gathered Wednesday evening for the annual banquet meeting of the Alumni Association at the high school cafeteria when annual awards were presented and greetings were brought by reunion classes.

With honor for the senior alumni present going to Miss Alice Williams of Gettysburg, member of the class of 1896, fourteen reunion classes renewed acquaintances and some of them gathered afterwards for separate celebrations at the annual dance that followed in the high school gymnasium or at homes of members.

Earliest "reunion class" was that of 1897 and Miss Isabelle Gertrude Griffith, of Harrisburg, was the only member present. The 50th anniversary class of 1907 had four members there.

A roast turkey dinner was served cafeteria style to the alumni by the high school cafeteria staff under the direction of Mrs. Alice Lower.

Presiding throughout the two-hour dinner program was Attorney John A. MacPhail of Gettysburg, a member of the 15th anniversary class of 1942. Present and new officers of the Alumni Association, including Richard A. Folkenroth as the new president, were introduced during the evening.

An annual feature of the alumni gathering was the presentation of the four-year alumni prizes for scholastic excellence. First prize went to Joan Lank and second to Shirley Fox. A few minutes earlier Miss Lank had received the Ruth A. Spangler memorial foreign language award.

J. Guy Wolf presented prizes to four commercial students, totaling $75. The first prize for secretarial work went to Nancy Kelly and Martha Bowman placed second. Tying for honors in bookkeeping were Carolyn Ketterman and Florence Reaver.

President MacPhail introduced Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegler; Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeaver, an honorary life member of the Graduates From Wilson On Monday

Miss Alice C. McDannell, Wilson College (Chambersburg) senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. McDannell, R. 4, will receive a Bachelor of Arts degree at the 87th Wilson College commencement, Monday.

A graduate of Gettysburg High School, Miss McDannell chose English for her major at Wilson. She was editor-in-chief of Billboard, the college weekly, a member of the Candel Club, Wilson honorary, Phi Beta Kappa, and editor of the Conococheague, the college yearbook.

GENERAL PAUL IS GRADUATION SPEAKER AT LHS

General Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College, spoke to the 47 graduates of the Littleton High School at the 44th annual commencement held in the auditorium Wednesday evening on the theme of the commencement program, "The Open Future."

He told the graduates "you have reached the stage of your life where you must put to work in a strange world, the things that you have learned, and you must begin to make your own decisions. You have grown up in a world that has made great strides in all fields of living. The school which you are about to leave, will soon become your responsibility; how will you govern? Will you talk about what is wrong, or be willing to praise what is right and do even more to better education? You should know, and note, that in the year 1962-63, just five years from now, 19,000 more children will enter first grade.

General Paul touched on national problems, state and local problems and concluded with a few do's and don'ts about personal problems. He quoted President Eisenhower by saying: "Anyone is young who retains optimism" and suggested that the students follow this line of thought. "Each of you, individually," he said, "must chart your own course. Freedom is re-created year by year and you must help to create the freedom we live, love, and believe."

Honor Students Speak
Miss Geraldine J. Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Roberts, Maple Ave., was valedictorian of the class, and presented an address on the subject "The Open Future." The salutatory address was given by Richard W. Horner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley S. Horner, M St., on the subject "So This Is Life!"

The commencement exercises opened with a procession by the graduating class, faculty, school board, and program participants. They processed to "Pomp and Circumstance," Elgar, by an instrumental ensemble composed of Robert Benner, Judy Ruggles, John Groff, Janet Sell, Joyce Yealy, Sally Brown Betty Morelock, Donna Morelock, Donna Rabenstein, Hugh Roberts, James Patterson, Gloria Burgoon and Wanda Pettyjohn. The invocation was given by the Rev. Rodney T. Yates, pastor of Centenary Methodist Church, followed by the salutatory talk.

The Little Green Tents

By WALT MASON

The little green tents where the soldiers sleep, and the sunbeams play and the women weep, are covered with flowers today; and between the tents walk the weary few, who were young and stalwart in 'sixty-two, when they went to the war away. The little green tents are built of sod, and they are not long, and they are not broad, but the soldiers have lots of room; and the sod is part of the land they saved, when the flag of the enemy darkly waved, the symbol of dole and doom. The little green tent is a thing divine; the little green tent is a country's shrine, where patriots kneel and pray; and the brave men left, so old, so few, were young and stalwart in 'sixty-two, when they went to the war away!

Thousands Honor Soldier Dead At Historic Shrines

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sunlight and shadows of another Memorial Day fell athwart the land today, and Pennsylvanians emphasized its deepest meaning in distinctive ways.

Over lush green landscapes at Gettysburg, Valley Forge, Washington Crossing and other shrines within the state's borders, bright new flags and regimental banners fluttered; and at the burial places of the honored dead of all America wars fresh flowers were placed.

One of Philadelphia's chief events takes place in the Germantown section. From a slanting base in Vernon Park Mayor Richardson Dilworth reviews a parade of the combined veterans committee of Germantown and then speaks to a gathering expected to number thousands.

4,000 SCOUTS EXPECTED HERE ON SATURDAY

An estimated 4,000 Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts will visit Gettysburg Saturday for the annual Gettysburg Pilgrimage of the Keystone Council Area of the Boy Scouts.

Members of the York-Adams Area Council of the Boy Scouts will join the pilgrimage this year.

The pilgrimage for a number of years was held in February, on the Saturday closest to Lincoln's birthday. Last year the program was changed to June because of the inclement weather prevalent in February.

State Senator George Wade will be the speaker at the service at the rostrum in the National Cemetery.

Parade At 9 A.M.
The program will begin with a parade at 9 o'clock Saturday morning from W. Lincoln Ave. It will move on Carlisle and Baltimore Sts. to the cemetery. Then the scouts will move to various sections of the battlefield and will make tours of the field following lunch.

For the parade American flags will be massed at the front of each section, and unit flags will head each unit.

Section One will contain scouts and explorers from the Paxton and

WILL CONSTRUCT SECOND WING TO LOCAL HOSPITAL

Directors of the Annie M. Warner hospital, at a meeting Wednesday evening in the Musselman annex directed the building committee to engage architects and engineers to prepare plans for a second wing to the hospital, a power house and a new kitchen.

The decision followed months of study which revealed that the average occupancy is running in the 80 per cent bracket and that nearly 30 percent of the time admission is necessarily limited to emergency cases. Such restrictions prevailed in the hospital during the entire month of January, the survey revealed.

The survey of the medical staff was overwhelmingly in favor of building a new wing. In addition, the survey stressed the importance of enlarging the surgery facilities of the hospital.

Engage Promotion Firm
In order to facilitate financing the necessary addition to the hospital and a new power plant and kitchen to accommodate existing and new facilities, the directors voted to engage the services of an accredited fund-raising firm to organize and direct the campaign.

No estimates of the cost will be available until preliminary plans are drawn and accepted and the specifications are developed. At that time application will be made for Federal funds under the Hill-Burton act which, if the plans are approved, will provide one-third of the cost.

As the concluding business of the meeting, Richard W. Livingston, New Oxford; Roy E. Starry, York Springs; Allys Franklin R. Bigbam and Richard A. Brown, and Joseph E. Codori, Dr. Frank H. Kramer, Henry M. Scharf and Edmund W. Thomas, all of Gettysburg, were elected directors for a three-year term.

Elect Officers
Wilbur A. Bankert, Littlestown, was elected president; Edmund W. Thomas, first vice president; Allys Brown, second vice president; Henry M. Scharf, secretary, and Philip M. Jones, treasurer.

Bankert succeeds Richard W. Livingston who was thanked by the board for "excellent service" in his two years in the presidency.

The incumbents of all offices under jurisdiction of the board were reappointed for another year.

On recommendation of the staff, Dr. S. David Solomon was elected a member on the staff with privileges limited to obstetrics and gynecology. Dr. Bryson C. Jones, Bendersville, was transferred from courtesy to active membership on the staff.

With these additions the entire staff was re-appointed by the directors for another year.

In his retirement from the presidency, Livingston expressed his appreciation for the wholehearted support given him by the directors during his incumbency which he described as "an unusual

General Theimer's Address

The following is the complete text of the Memorial Day address delivered in the Gettysburg National Cemetery this afternoon by Major General John E. Theimer, deputy chief of staff, Department of the Army:

"Gettysburg holds a particular significance for Americans on Memorial Day, when we pay our respects to those who made the supreme sacrifice for those things we hold highest and cherish most. This memorial has progressively embraced all those who in succeeding threats to our freedom and ideals fought with devotion and determination in the face of unforeseen and seemingly insurmountable difficulties. From the examples of these men we derive not only great respect but also the resolution to carry on what they achieved so dearly.

Freedom Challenged
"Within our lifetimes we have been challenged repeatedly by forces which sought the dissolution of our liberties. And each time we have found the strength, and the men, who would respond to this challenge. Each time we have faced up to our responsibility in the hope that our children would be spared the horrors and grief of war in their day.

Today, almost a hundred years after the great battle which has made the name of Gettysburg significant around the world, we regret that, despite their sacrifices, this nation has yet to achieve lasting peace.

"When the guns fell silent in Europe and the Pacific 12 years ago, America held the hope that war, as an instrument of international politics, had been exposed before all sane men as futile and senseless. The world was eager for peace. The nations of the earth united in an organization conceived as a concert of governments, dedicated to the preservation of peace and human decency. But ever before World War II was over, the leaders of Soviet Russia had launched within their orbit a campaign of broken promises, threats, treachery and subversion.

Rally Around U. S.
"Alarmed, the free nations of the world rallied around the United States, which found itself responsible for the leadership of the free world.

"This realization today finds the people of America engaged in an

NO OBSERVANCE WAS PROPOSED FOR MEMORIAL DAY THIS YEAR

This is the Memorial Day that wasn't supposed to be.

Observance of Memorial Day on May 30 was established in 1888 by "General Order No. 11" issued by General John N. Logan, then commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

He directed in the order that the day be observed "while a survivor of the war remains to honor the dead."

The last survivor of the G.A.R., Albert Woolson, died last August 2, which, according to General Logan's order, would have ended the observance which now recognizes the great sacrifices of all dead.

Logan's Order
General Logan's order founding Memorial Day follows:

"Headquarters, Grand Army of the Republic, Washington, D. C., May 5, 1888. General Order No. 11.

"I. The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village, and hamlet churchyard in the land. In this observance no form or ceremony is prescribed, but posts and comrades will in their own way arrange such fitting services and testimonials of respect as circumstances may permit.

"We are organized, comrades, as our regulations tell us, for the purpose, among other things, of preserving and strengthening those kind and fraternal feelings which have bound together the soldiers, sailors, and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion. What can aid more to assure this result than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes?

Memorial Day was solemnly observed in Gettysburg again today when reverent tribute was paid to the soldier dead of all wars.

A luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg at noon preceded the annual procession to the Gettysburg National Cemetery where school children decorated the graves of the known and unknown soldier dead.

The annual "Decoration Day" exercises for many years honored only the men who died in the Civil War.

Today the service honored 3,075 Civil War dead, and 700 Spanish-American, World War I, World War II and Korean War dead buried in the National Cemetery and all war dead through the nation.

The parade formed at the Meade School at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, headed by an escort of local police.

Children In Parade

Chief Marshal was LeRoy H. Winebrenner. Mounted aides included Arthur W. Warman, Charles Jacobs, Stephen Jacobs, John Teeter, John L. Cauffman and LeRoy LeVan.

Officials of the Gettysburg public schools headed a contingent that included the Gettysburg Senior High School band followed by hundreds of school children carrying flowers to be placed on the graves.

The Eichelberger Senior High School Band of Hanover, making its first appearance in a Memorial Day parade here, headed the parochial school children.

The second division was headed by mounted aides Attorney Charles W. Wolf, Dr. James A. Martin, Attorney Donald G. Oyler, Samuel B. Miller, Carl Oyler and Harold Bucher.

Behind the Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg marched Company A, 313th Infantry Regiment, U. S. Army Reserves, commanded by Lt. Paul E. Aumen Jr. The unit made its first appearance in a parade here.

Veterans In Parade

Howitzer Co. 2nd. Bn., 104th Armored Cavalry, Adams County's National Guard Unit, commanded by Lt. Donald E. Doersom, appeared as three marching platoons, one carrying M-1 rifles, one carrying carbines and one submachine guns, and the color guard.

Following the National Guard were Spanish-American War Veterans in autos; the Lower Adams County Community Band of Hunt-erstown, also making its first appearance in a Memorial Day parade here; Post 15, Veterans of Foreign Wars and other VFW units; the Hanover American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps; the Albert J. Lentz Post 202 of the American Legion of Gettysburg and other American Legion Units.

Next in line were the Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts from the Black Walnut Boy Scout School District, Girl Scouts of the Adams County Girl Scout Council, the Gettysburg Junior High School Band, 4-H Club members, Y-Teens, Sons of Union Veterans of Camp 112 of Gettysburg, the speaker, Maj. Gen. John E. Theimer, deputy chief of staff of the Department of the Army, other guests and the committee of staff of the Department of the Army, other guests and the committee in cars.

5 JAILED IN CINDER FRAUD

HARRISBURG (AP) — Five men began Dauphin County jail terms today for cheating the state of $36,000 through shortweight deliveries of highway cinders in Cambria County.

Their testimony, including a statement that John R. Torquato had received an $8,000 payoff from the fraud, led Judge Homer L. Kreider to direct that Dist. Atty. Huethe F. Dowling examine the possibility of additional prosecutions.

Torquato, former Secretary of Labor and Industry and the Cambria County Democratic chairman, said that a payoff was "news" to me. Gov. Leffer dismissed him from the state cabinet in January for his administration of a special fund in the department.

To Probe Payoff

Dowling said the court-directed study would definitely include the payoff testimony given by Adam J. Molino, suspended superintendent of highways for Cambria County and one of the five. Molino had testified he knew of a payoff to Torquato but couldn't prove it.

Molino was sentenced with Anthony L. Roberts of Cresson and Leonard D. Sheehan of Loretto, partners in the firm which delivered the cinders, to 6-to-23-month terms. Each was also fined $530. John Durbin of Cress and Frank Stancovich of Portage, state material inspectors, were sentenced to 2-to-4-month terms. They were fined $55 each.

STORMS POUND SOME AREAS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wet weather expected to mar Memorial Day programs in many parts of the nation today. However, clear skies were indicated in the central and north Atlantic Coast states and in the far Southwest.

Mild temperatures prevailed in most all areas.

Widespread areas of thunderstorm activity was reported during the night in Kansas and Oklahoma after severe storms in the two states yesterday. The stormy weather in the central plains diminished considerably.

A few tornadoes were associated with the thunderstorms in south central Kansas and north central Oklahoma. Heavy rains which hit the already drenched areas increased the danger of further floods.

The severe storm belt yesterday extended from Kansas northward through Iowa into Wisconsin and northwestern into Wyoming. Hail fell in many areas. Tornadoes were sighted in sections of Kansas, Colorado and Iowa but no serious damage was reported. The storms abated during the night and light showers or thundershowers fell over most of the storm belt.

13-Year Old Girl Stabbed In Back

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — A 13-year-old girl was stabbed with a butcher knife in a sixth grade classroom of an Erie school yesterday by a classmate who told police she couldn't stand alleged taunts by her fellow pupils.

Gertrude Crosby is reported in fair condition at St. Vincent hospital. She suffered wounds of the left shoulder and back.

Detective Carl Malinowski and Thomas Hartkins said the stabbing occurred in the presence of 31 startled pupils of the John Dehl School after the two girls had exchanged words.

The girl told the detectives she had been the victim of taunts from classmates for sometime. She said she brought the knife to school after the lunch recess and hid it in her desk.

"I pulled out the knife and stabbed Gertrude twice," the girl told officers.

The Memorial Day weekend, which will be four days long for many this year, will pose the usual problems of safety, convenience and patience for motorists.

The vast flow of vehicles will clog roads leading to the mountains, seashore points and other resorts. And this cavalcade of cars will considerably increase the danger to all, percentage-wise.

If the terrible highway toll is to be cut down appreciably over this week's holiday all of us who drive anywhere must be certain that our cars are in the best possible mechanical shape, observe every common-sense rule of the road, and practice courtesy and patience at all times.

Strict observance of speed limits and all posted regulations and the policy of looking out for the other fellow will be of utmost importance to everyone on the highways. Early starts and leisurely driving also are essential safety factors, particularly on such a travel-congested holiday, and roundabout routes or even "back roads" should prove more desirable — and certainly less dangerous — routes to many of the popular places.

The motorist more than ever will be personally responsible for his own safety and the safety of countless others along the road.

Be prepared, be courteous, be patient — and be safe.

Free Magistrate In Numbers Case

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Magistrate Joseph J. Molinari was acquitted last night of a charge he persuaded a principal in a numbers case to perjure himself. It was his third trial on the charge.

Molinari was accused of persuading 56-year-old Anderson Sayles, a porter, to deny his statement given to police on the day of his arrest for writing numbers, Dec. 20, 1952, that he worked for Benjamin (Skinny Benny) De Stefano.

At his first trial, Molinari was convicted of the charge, but won a new trial order from the state Supreme Court. His second trial ended in a hung jury.

Natty Gunman Gets $9,520 In Holdup

PITTSBURGH (AP) — State and local police today joined in a search for a well-dressed gunman who obtained $9,520 in the holdup of the Cedarhurst branch of the Bridgeville National Bank in suburban Scott Twp. yesterday.

Employees of the branch said the man, wearing a mask and carrying a gun, entered the bank yesterday and forced the manager and a teller to turn face to a wall while he scooped the money out of two cash drawers.

The bandit fled in an auto as another employee entered the bank lobby from a back room.

Nat King Cole Is Sued For Chandelier

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 15th century Dutch chandelier is the subject of a court suit filed against singer Nat (King) Cole.

E. C. Martin, who filed the action yesterday, said he bought the chandelier from a wrecking company after it was removed from the beach home of former actress Marion Davies. But, he said, it was delivered to Cole, who bought other furnishings from the house.

Martin valued the chandelier at $1,000.

BUS SERVICE IS VOTED FOR ALL SCHOOL PUPILS

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The speaker of the Connecticut House of Representatives broke a 123-133 tie vote last night to assure passage of a bill authorizing public transportation for pupils of nonprofit private schools.

Gov. Abraham Ribicoff signed the measure without comment.

All 30 Democrats in the Republican-controlled House voted for the bill, which gives permission to towns and cities to decide by referendum whether to supply the bus service. Chiefly involved are about 70,000 children in Roman Catholic schools.

The tie vote on the bill came after 5 hours and 15 minutes of debate.

The speaker, Nelson Brown, Republican of Groton, then told the Assembly: "The chair votes yes. The bill is passed."

Bill Almost Buried

A cheer went up and the measure was passed along to the governor for his signature.

The Senate had passed the measure 31-5 more than a week ago. Last Wednesday the bill came to the House.

Its opponents succeeded in sending it back to the Education Committee, which previously had recommended it be rejected.

The bill was destined to die in committee unless a majority of the 279-member House petitioned to get it out again.

The following day, the proposal became a religious issue.

The weekly Catholic Transcript, official organ of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Hartford, printed a front-page editorial accusing "a faction of the Republican party" of making the issue a political one.

It said, "A political issue can only be corrected at the polls. This one will be."

Petition Forces Action

The capitol reacted to the editorial. The petition was drawn up and a majority signed it to get it out of committee.

Last Sunday, a letter signed by Archbishop Henry J. O'Brien and the two bishops in the state was read at all masses in all Catholic churches.

The letter told members of the church to "carefully observe" what action was taken on the bill in the Legislature.

Next day, 50 Protestant ministers and laymen announced their objection to the bill. They contended public tax money should not be used for private bus service.

That same day, Republican National Chairman Meade Alden, a resident of Connecticut, urged Republican leaders in the Legislature to support the bill. He said it was based on what he called the Republican principle of "home rule."

Wedding

Chislett-Wildasin

Miss Sonja Yvonne Wildasin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Wildasin, Hanover, was married to Robert Roger Chislett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chislett, Abbottstown R. 1, at 10 a. m. Saturday at St. Paul's (Dubs') Union Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell T. Shilling, pastor of the West Manheim Lutheran congregation. Mrs. George Zinneman was the organist.

The maid of honor was Miss Brenda Stonestifer, Hanover R. 1. James Smith, New Oxford R. 2, served as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents with about 45 guests attending. After the breakfast the couple left for a wedding trip through the Blue Ridge Mountains. The couple will reside in West Palm Beach, Fla. Mrs. Chislett attended Hanover High School and her husband attended the high school at New Oxford.

Fugitive Agrees To Waiver Of Removal

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A man wanted in New Castle, Pa., on charges of assault, robbery and kidnapping has waived extradition. U. S. District Court Judge Walter E. Hoffman yesterday ordered Willie Edward Lowe, 30, of Norfolk returned to Pennsylvania after Lowe signed a waiver of removal. He was arrested last week by two city patrolmen after a three-day search.

Pennsylvania state police said Lowe is wanted on charges he kidnapped a 22-year-old waitress in Youngstown, Ohio, on May 16 and took her to Pennsylvania. She escaped near New Castle.

YANK LEADS TOURNEY

FORMBY, England (AP) — Harold Ridgely, stubby 43-year-old U. S. Air Force master sergeant from Haverford, Pa., took a four-up lead over Leslie McClue of Scotland after the first 18 holes today in their 36-hole quarter-final match in the British amateur golf championship.

Ridgely shot the morning round in 73 over the 6,803-yard, par 35-37-72 Formby course in fine weather. McClue, still a bit pale and shaky after having been struck on the head by Dale Morey's driver during their match yesterday, took a 79.

PLANE CRASHES INTO GARAGE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A private plane with two persons aboard slammed into a garage-apartment in populous San Fernando Valley last night, killing one of the occupants and injuring three others. A bystander suffered a heart attack.

Police said the four-place plane, piloted by Hoke Anderson, 44, veteran flier, apparently had developed engine trouble.

The craft clipped the roof of one residence before smashing into the garage-apartment occupied by two elderly women. Miss Frances Mullard, 94, was fatally injured. Her niece, Mrs. Alleen Aldinger, 73, suffered severe shock.

Anderson and his wife, Leta, 27, were seriously injured but reported in fair condition at St. Joseph's Hospital in nearby Burbank.

Anderson said he couldn't remember what happened.

Joseph Frantz, 70, was standing nearby when the plane came down. He collapsed and died.

Recess Trial Of Two Police

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — The question of whether the feeling two policemen had for each other was friendly or otherwise has been posed by the defense in the case of three suspended policemen accused of robbing downtown stores here.

The trial of two of the defendants is in recess until Monday.

One of them, Ray Myers, 30, took the stand in his own defense yesterday and suggested there was bad blood between himself and a prosecution witness, Gerald Heffernan, a former policeman who has since moved to Levittown, Pa. Under cross-examination, Myers admitted he helped Heffernan move to Levittown last summer.

Myers was the last witness for the day. On trial with him on charges of conspiring with a night watchman at various stores to loot them of thousands of dollars worth of merchandise in late 1955 and throughout 1956 is Robert Conmy, 34. The third defendant, Emil Hudak, 38, was cleared of conspiracy charges on the grounds of lack of evidence. He still faces a larceny charge.

PORTERSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — An Erie watchmaker and his wife were killed yesterday in a head-on collision between their auto and a truck on Route 19 in Butler County.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Zimmerman, both about 50. They were reported en route to Richmond, Va., to visit a son, Philip.

State police said the car, with Zimmerman at the wheel, veered in front of a northbound truck driven by David E. Laviere, 28.

association and former superintendent of schools; Dr. R. D. Wickerham, president of the joint school board; Ray J. Kitzmiller, Gettysburg board president, and School Director Addison Durboraw of Freedom Twp.

Officers Introduced

The introductions came after the invocation by the Rev. Dr. Harold Dunkelberger of the 25th anniversary class of 1932. Donald Weikert, Washington, D. C., class of '20, was introduced as the organizer of a Washington area branch of the alumni association.

New officers presented include: President, Richard Folkenroth, elementary supervisor in the Gettysburg schools; first vice president, Edward Beard; second vice president, Larry Riegle; recording secretary, Mrs. Ann Bracey; co-statisticians, Miss Helen Spangler and Miss Alice Williams, and John C. Stahl, treasurer. Committees in charge of the annual banquet and dance also were presented.

President MacPhail formally welcomed the graduating class into the association and the class president, Larry Riegle, responded. Parents of seniors also were introduced from the membership of the association.

"Old Grads" Introduced

Two copies of this year's Cannon-Ald were presented by Editor Sue Korte and Business Manager John Hewetson. Jay R. Schmitt, awards chairman, made the alumni awards presentations.

The last half hour of program was given over to greetings from reunion classes. A number of "old grads" were introduced as President MacPhail called on the reunion classes. They included: Miss Griffith of 1897; Virginia Tawney Sientz, 1898; Jessie Ziegler Easterday, 1899; Clair Sweeney, Grace Sachs and Frank Shriver of 1903; Belle Scott Stackhouse, Easton, only member of the reunion class of 1902 in attendance and she recalled in brief remarks there had been three of her class here five years ago.

A number of members of the class of 1904 were introduced including Nell Weaver Enteline, Fred G. Troxell, James Long and Miss Ruth McIlhenny.

50th Anniversary

Ralph Weaver Sr., of Spring Grove, was the spokesman for the four members of the class of 1907 gathered for their 50th anniversary. There were 11 of them at graduation, he said. The others there Wednesday were Helen Kandlehart Carling, of High Bridge, N. J.; Hazel Thron Deinger, Watsontown, Pa., and Miss Margaret McIlhenny, of Gettysburg.

The only member of the 45th anniversary class of 1912 in attendance was Mrs. Bertha Weikert Lahrung of York.

Six local members of the 40th anniversary class of 1917 sat together at the banquet tables. They included Burgess William G. Weaver, their spokesman, Wilbur Geiselman, Mrs. Edna Zinkand Hartzell, Percy Miller, Mrs. Lloyd Hartman and Mrs. Anna Miller Weaver. There were 36 in the class at graduation and six have died.

Ray Shetter talked for the Class of 1922 with 11 in attendance and with G. W. Leffer, high school principal, as their guest. Forty-eight had graduated.

35 For 25th Reunion

Spokesman for the class of 1937 was Howard Robinson, Mamaroneck, N. Y., a former class president. There were 26 of the original 72 on hand for their 30th reunion, including Attorney Robert Seaks of Harrisburg, who, Robinson said, was the youngest student ever graduated from the local high school. Seaks got his diploma at 13.

Dr. James Dickson, Chambersburg surgeon, spoke for the 25th anniversary class of 1932 which had 35 members present. J. Guy Wolf and Fred P. Haehnen, of the faculty, were class guests.

John Kandlehart, of Gettysburg, responded for the class of 1937. Of the 99 who graduated, 18 were in attendance.

Dance Follows

Harvey Smith spoke for the 38 members of the class of 1942 in attendance from the original 137. Dale Sheffer responded for the 10-year class of 1947. He said 56 of their 98 members were present and noted the death within the last year of a class member, Jay Hershey.

Jack Bream of Gettysburg was the spokesman for the class of 1952 which had only 17 present. Eleven members of last year's graduating class were introduced.

The program closed with the singing of the "Alma Mater." Group singing during the evening was led by Paul W. Grove with Mrs. Howard Hartzell at the piano.

After the dinner, there was dancing in the gymnasium to the music of Roy Gibbons and his orchestra. The usual grand march opened the dance, led by J. Herbert Raymond, dance committee chairman.

COMMISSIONERS GIVEN REPORT ON COUNTY HOME AND ITS NEEDS

A special committee from the Adams County Council of Community Services made a report Wednesday to the Adams County Commissioners on "certain findings and needs" at the county home. The report was accepted at a recent meeting of the council's board of directors, Arthur J. Roth, council president, said. The report was made as "a matter of information and an expression of our interest and concern for the care of the aged and homeless people of our community," Roth said.

The special committee was appointed "to offer guidance and encouragement to the county commissioners in planning for the future of the county home," Mr. Roth explained Wednesday. Names of members of the special committee were not revealed by the council president but it was "composed of delegates to the council from local health and welfare agencies," he said.

Struck By "Obsolescence"
The committee's report follows: "The special committee on the Adams County Home has toured the facilities of the home and would like to report its impressions and findings. The committee was struck by the obsolescence of the buildings and the depressing appearance of accommodations for the guests. It is evident that the staff does a conscientious job of keeping rooms and buildings clean but cannot cope with such matters as peeling paint and scarred walls. The notable exception to these conditions exists in the annex, the interior of which was more recently renovated. In addition to these general impressions, the committee would like to report this—by no means exhaustive—list of needs in the home:

"There are no infirmaries facilities for patients needing long term hospital type care. Patients requiring this kind of attention must either occupy beds at the Warner Hospital for longer periods of time than desirable or receive care in the home rooms which are not equipped for this kind of service.

"There is no regular nursing service for patients of the home. This kind of care is an added responsibility for the staff which is bearing a maximum load of work in other aspects of the home life. A registered nurse on duty is an imperative need.

buildings in dark, damp cellar rooms which are totally inadequate. More adequate laundry facilities would free the staff people for other more important duties in the care of guests.

"Obsolete, Cramped, Unattractive"
"Bathroom facilities in the buildings are insufficient and obsolete. In the men's building, for example there is only one tub and one toilet for a whole floor of men. Floors in these rooms are wooden and, therefore, almost impossible to keep clean. The odors coming from the bathrooms are highly offensive.

"Except for TV sets and a few simple games, there are no recreational or hobby facilities for the guests. The sitting rooms are too small and cramped to provide comfortable quarters for the guests.

"Furnishings are generally old and unattractive. For example, in at least one of the dining rooms aged guests must eat at a table on benches without backs.

"Narrow stairways, particularly in the men's building, appear to be extremely dangerous should fire break out in the building.

Need Study And Action
"As mentioned above, this is not an exhaustive list of needs but sufficient to indicate that our county needs to give concern and attention to the provision of more adequate care of its aged and needy residents. We feel sure that if citizens generally were aware of existing conditions in the home they would share our feeling that both careful study and prompt action are required of us."

Attending the recent services council meeting when the report was adopted were the following members of the board of directors: Mr. Roth, Attorney John A. MacPhail, first vice president; Rev.

HOLD SERVICES THIS EVENING IN LITTLESTOWN

The annual Memorial Day parade and service will be held in Littlestown this evening. The parade will move at 6:30 p.m. from the high school on Maple Ave. to E. Myrtle St., onto N. Queen through the square, pause briefly at the Veterans Memorial on S. Queen St., and then onto Cemetery St., concluding at Mt. Carmel Cemetery. A service will take place in the cemetery, and the Memorial address will be delivered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, Reading, a former resident of the community following his discharge from the Army, when he served as a chaplain during World War II.

A public party will be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226 at 8 o'clock on Friday evening at the Eagles Home.

Members of the Junior Fellowship of Centenary Methodist Church will enjoy an outdoor barbecue at the home of the adult counselor, Mrs. Chester S. Byers, E. Myrtle St., tomorrow from 5:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Fly-up ceremonies for Brownie Scout Troop No. 45 will be held in St. Aloysius Hall on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. Parents and friends of the troop members are invited to attend, as well as the other Brownie troops of the community. The leaders of Troop 45 are Mrs. John Kump, Mrs. Emerson F. Muller and Mrs. William R. Keefer.

Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church School will hold its annual strawberry and ice cream festival in the church grove, on Saturday. Serving will begin at 4 p.m. Soups, sandwiches and other foods will be available. The public is invited to attend. Proceeds will be given to the church building fund.

The weekly public party will be held in St. Aloysius Hall at 8 p.m. on Saturday. Prizes will be given and refreshments will be available. A turkey supper will be served.

Herman G. Stuempfle, second vice president; Mrs. Henry T. Bream, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Oren Wilson, Robert McMillan, Attorney Edward B. Bulleit and Mrs. Ida Roth. Board members not present were Rev. Charles Held, Dr. Roy W. Gifford, Dr. Esther Bloss, Miss Mildred Eden and Col. Edwin Johnson.

Release of the report was delayed until today to permit the commissioners to receive it at this morning's meeting.

Graduates

Ronald D. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Miller, W. Middle St., who received a degree of Bachelor of Science in Education at Shipensburg State Teachers' College on Monday. He majored in elementary education in the intermediate field and will teach in Gettysburg next year. He was a member of Alpha Phi Omega, Gamma Theta Upsilon, the yearbook staff, Elementary Club, Future Teachers of America and took part in Student Government. He was graduated from Gettysburg High School in 1953.

to the public by the King's Daughters Class and Young Men's Class of Christ Church next Saturday, June 8, starting at 4 p.m., in the church grove auditorium.

Mission Group Meets

Mrs. Clinton O. Sentz, W. King St., was hostess to the Abigail Kammerer Missionary Society of St. Paul's Lutheran Church for the monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. The hostess read the Scripture and offered prayer, and as leader for the evening, introduced the topic, "World Lutherans, Welcome To North America." Participating in the discussion were Mrs. Charles E. Rabenstein, Mrs. Milton Harner, Mrs. Carroll E. Arter, Mrs. Mahlon Sher, Mrs. J. Walter Groce, Mrs. Charles E. Ritter, Mrs. David S. Kammerer Sr., Mrs. George Schaefer, Mrs. L. Robert Snyder and Mrs. Paul C. Mayers.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Rabenstein. Reports were heard from Mrs. Mayers, secretary, and Mrs. Snyder, treasurer. Those members who represented the society at the spring rally of missionary societies, held on May 2 in Chambersburg, reported on the proceedings there. A report on the fifth chapter of the book "Missions U.S.A." was given by Mrs. Schaefer. At the conclusion of the business, refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Paul Mayers will be leader for the next meeting of the society, to be held on Tuesday, June 25, at the home of Mrs. Carl H. Baumgardner, S. Queen St.

Class Makes Plans

The Tuck-a-Bach Class of St. John's Lutheran Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Brumgard, near town, with Mrs. William J. Lippy, president, presiding. The opening devotionals included group singing; Scripture reading, Mrs. Lippy; sentence prayers by the members, opened by Mrs. Lippy and closed by Mrs. Walter Yingling. Mrs. Joseph Selby, secretary, reported. The class decided to set stationery, engraved with a picture of the church, and anyone wishing to order a box should contact a member of the class. Plans were made to hold a covered dish supper in connection with the next meeting on Tuesday, June 25, at Rabenstein's Pool, Hanover. The June refreshment committee includes Mrs. Earl Brumgard, Mrs. Burnell Brumgard and Mrs. Walter Yingling. At the close of the business period, refreshments were served by the hostess.

COUNCIL SEEKS TO SECURE NEW SIREN FROM C-D

Littlestown Borough Secretary Roger J. Keefer was authorized to make application for a new fire siren for Littlestown through Civil Defense at the May meeting of the Littlestown Borough Council on Tuesday evening. Some trouble has been experienced with the present siren and parts for its repair cannot be secured. All members of council attended the meeting in the office of the secretary.

A discussion was held on streets and alleys of the town and the secretary told council a request had been received for correcting conditions at the alley adjacent to St. Paul's Lutheran Church. An eight-inch drain was ordered installed with storm sewer grates at either side of the alley. The alley also is to be re-surfaced.

Other alleys were discussed and it was agreed that Zerfing's alley, Church St. and several others will be included in the surfacing program to the extent that funds are available.

To Consult Engineers

There was discussion in regard to the construction of a sanitary sewer line on Ocker Ave. in the Rolling Acres development. Engineers will be consulted in the matter.

Another request was received by the secretary for council to make application to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for permission to cross under their tracks and right of way with sanitary sewer and water mains to service a proposed factory on the south side of the tracks adjacent to the Keystone Cabinet Company property. The secretary was directed to make the application.

Council discussed an ordinance proposed to fix charges for connections and sewer rentals for non-resident properties and for improvement in the present regulations on the types of waste that may go into the borough system. The suggestion was made that heavy penalties be provided for installing "disposal units." Some trouble in operation of the present system was blamed upon some of these causes.

To Get Fence Bids

The secretary told council that specifications bid and proposal forms for the erection of a chain link fence at the "quarry pumping station site" have been prepared and bids are being asked. They will be opened June 25.

Council granted a request from John Naugle, an assistant county farm agent, for permission to use the fire hall as a polling place in a milk farmers' referendum expected to be held late in June.

Councilmen received an invitation to take part in the Memorial Day parade in Littlestown this evening.

Chief of Police Calvin Mummet reported 31 violations for overtime parking in the last month and nine other kinds of parking violations. Ten motorists were charged with passing a flashing red light, five for red light violations. One robbery was investigated and two stolen.

Couple Observes 37th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Cox, W. High St., Sunday celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary quietly at their home. They were married May 26, 1920, at Blessed Sacrament Catholic rectory in Philadelphia by the Rev. John Kane.

Mr. Cox is a retired federal government worker with 30 years service in the State Dept. He is a graduate of Columbia Business College, Columbia, S. C. Mrs. Cox was born at Bonneville but moved to Gettysburg at the age of 2½ years. She was employed at the Eddystone Munition plant during World War I and worked for the government in the last war.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox have lived in Gettysburg for the last several years.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO
Wilson Urges U. S. To End Crises Due To Unemployment:
"Gettysburg in all its glory must remain ever in our grateful memories not as a symbol of death, but as a symbol of life which resolutely turns our faces away from war and toward a promised land of peace, and security, the fortunate people of which shall enjoy life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

These words struck the keynote in the memorial address delivered this afternoon in the National Cemetery here by U. S. Davis Wilson, Mayor of Philadelphia.

Yorker Named Bigler Teacher:
Cecil Snyder, York, who will be graduated from Pennsylvania State college this week, was elected instructor in agriculture and shop work at Biglerville high school at an adjourned meeting of the Biglerville board of education Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Snyder will complete a four-year course in agriculture at the state institution with the end of the current school year.

The board fixed his salary at $1,000. President Lloyd W. Kleinfelter presided at the meeting.

3 Contractors From County To Build Addition To Bigler H. S.:
Three county contractors were successful bidders for contracts to build and equip a four-room addition to the Biglerville High School. The contracts were awarded at a meeting of the Biglerville school board Friday evening.

Luther I. Sachs, Gettysburg, was the successful bidder for the general contract at $13,936. Alfred R. LeVan, Gettysburg, won the contract for installing the heating and ventilating system. His price was $2,165.

Submitting the lowest of three bids, F. Walter Wright, Biglerville plumber, was awarded the contract for the plumbing work in the addition at his offer of $1,170.

Interior Of Buchanan Farm House Burns, Loss $4,000:
Fire late Monday evening destroyed the interior of the historic stone house on the Bushman farm, three and a half miles southeast of Gettysburg, used as a hospital by the Union forces during the battle of Gettysburg. The farm is owned by Charles T. Hawbaker.

Rev. Putman Is Named Head Of Lutheran Synod:
York, May 25 (AP) — The Rev. Dwight P. Putman, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, in Gettysburg, was elected president of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of West Pennsylvania at the first business session of the convention today.

Wm. G. Weaver Is Named Head Of H. S. Alumni:
William G. Weaver, Graeffenburg Inn, was re-elected president of the Alumni Association of Gettysburg high school at a meeting of the alumni council Monday evening at the high school.

In line with an established custom, the president of the senior class at the high school was named vice president of the association. He is George Hanawalt, Gettysburg R. D. Other present officers were re-elected as follows: Mrs. S. Richard Eisenhart, Baltimore street, secretary; Mrs. Gladys Kelley, Springs avenue, treasurer, and J. Melchoir Sheads, North Stratton street, statistician.

K. Of C. Delegate:
J. Preston Smith, cashier of the Farmers' bank at McSherrystown, was one of the eight selected as delegates to the supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus at the closing session of the state convention in Johnstown Tuesday.

Mothers Club Installs New Officers:
Annual reports of committee chairmen were heard, new officers were installed and committees for the coming year were named at the final meeting until the fall months of the Gettysburg Mothers Club Wednesday afternoon at the Blue Parrot tea room.

The new officers of the Mothers' club are: Mrs. Spencer W. Aungst, president; Mrs. A. R. Wentz, vice

Today's Talk

GENTLEMANSHIP

I have known and loved many a great man during my lifetime, and I recall none of them who weren't gentle and rare in understanding. That is what made them both great and beloved. A really great man does not make you feel that he is great. Nor does such a man, who may be wealthy, make you feel his wealth. His kindly friendliness seems to background the man that he is.

I once heard a story about the gentleness of Henry Ford, the founder of the great motor company. A building was being erected but they discovered a robin nestling in a fore part of the building, and orders were given to stop work on the building until the robin had raised her family and started them out in the big world of Nature.

At another time Henry Ford told me that when he had the acres cleared at Macon, Michigan, for a great plant, he paid boys five dollars each to bring the squirrels on that plot to him, unharmed. Then he had them set loose in another wooded place. Mr. Ford loved children and had a kindly feeling for the defenseless, in Nature, and among his fellow creatures.

All the many Nature writers, whose books I prize, and whose characters have always made me their admirer, have been gentle men. Thoreau lived in a world that made him akin to all the inhabitants of Nature. This was what made W. H. Hudson so great as a nature writer. The Argentine pampas, where he was born, was his garden, where every inhabitant was his friend. His gentleness was the outstanding characteristic about him. What a worthy trait!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "To Be Misunderstood."

MEMORIAL DAY

We, the living, set aside
This day unto all who died.
Gave their future years that we
Who might follow could be free.

We were children still unborn,
Unacquainted still with scorn,
Knowing neither sect nor creed.
Some to follow; some to lead.

We were children, long ago,
Whom they'd never lived to know;
Of the distant future we
Were the ones they'd never see.

Still their memory survives
In our comfortable lives.
For our peace of mind and pride
On some battlefield they died.

Americans Pause Today To Honor War Dead And Relax

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Americans pause today to honor the nation's military dead. Millions, in a holiday mood, relax at home or enjoy opening festivities at beaches and other resort areas.

As usual on Memorial Day, travel is heavy and a watchful eye is being kept on auto and other fatalities accompanying the pleasures of a long weekend.

The weather forecast for most of the nation was fair and mild. Many churches scheduled special services while countless thousands trekked to gravesites to pay homage to their war dead.

All Wars Involved
Memorial Day, originally a remembrance of the Northerners who died in the Civil War, gradually has come to mean for Americans a salute to the dead of all wars — from the Revolutionary to the Korean.

Parades and other special civic ceremonies abound in communities from coast to coast.

At Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C., a wreath will be laid in President Eisenhower's name at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Acting for the President at the ceremony will be Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles. Eisenhower will spend a quiet day at the White House.

Overseas Too
The scenes of savage fighting during the War Between the States will have their special observances — among them Antietam in Maryland and Gettysburg in Pennsylvania.

Overseas, Americans take part in Memorial Day services. In Paris, U.S. Ambassador to France Amory Houghton leads a procession to the Arc de Triomphe to lay a wreath on the tomb of France's Unknown Soldier.

NO OBSERVANCE

Their soldier lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains, and their death a tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms. We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the Nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten, as a people, the cost of a free and undivided republic.

Keep Solemn Trust
"If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain in us."

"Let us, then, at the time appointed, gather around their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us as sacred charges upon the Nation's gratitude,—the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan."

"It is the purpose of the Commander-in-Chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, while a survivor of the war remains to honor the memory of his departed comrades. He earnestly desires the public press to call attention to this Order, and lend its friendly aid in bringing it to the notice of comrades in all parts of the country in time for simultaneous compliance therewith."

"III. Department commanders will use every effort to make this order effective."

ly active period in the history of the hospital and one that was not without difficult moments that involved important responsibilities and decisions on the part of all directors, committees and officers.

Thank Auxiliary
The retiring president asked for a special resolution of thanks to the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital for gifts of draperies and office furnishings for the hospital.

"The services of the auxiliary have been invaluable beyond expression and there is no way we can adequately express our thanks to these ladies from all over the county whose voluntary services and contributions to the hospital have been one of its most important assets," Livingston said.

During April 321 patients were admitted and average daily occupancy was 74 patients. There were 81 births. Receipts were $41,829.41 while expenditures were $41,891.55. Earned income was $39,008.69 while expenses, including charity work, costing $4,088.96, totaled $38,224.43.

The fiscal year ends Friday after which the accounts of the hospital will be audited by independent accountants and the annual report will be submitted to the new board in June.

FOUR VETERANS FACE 29 YOUNG PILOT TODAY

By DALE BURGESS
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Four crafty old men — as ages go in auto racing — pitted their years of experience against 29 hard-driving younger pilots today in the 41st running of the 500-mile auto race at Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

Track veterans called it the most wide-open race since the opener in 1911, with at least 10 drivers rated a chance to win.

Two of the toughest old timers, never able to win the big Memorial Day pot but always contenders, were Paul Russo of Canoga Park, Calif., who wrecked his Novi while leading last year's "500," and Fred Agabashian, Walnut Creek, Calif., driving one of 11 new style Kurtis-Krafts. Both are 43.

Revolutionary Model
Sam Hanks, Pacific Palisades, Calif., 42, was starting in a new horizontal engine Sals-Epperly car that could revolutionize race car design if it finishes well. Tony Bettenhausen, 40, Tinley Park, Ill., was in a twin to Russo's Novi.

Hanks was starting for the 12th time. It was 11th for Bettenhausen, Russo and Agabashian.

Five For First Time
Five first-time starters included the youngest driver in the field, Don Edmonds, Anaheim, Calif. At 26, the red-haired machinist was four years older than was Troy Ruttman when he won the 1952 grand.

There was the usual incentive to go full bore for the lead as soon as possible — special lap prize of $150 for each time a driver led the field around the 2½-mile track. That was a potential $30,000 on top of a purse expected to be around $300,000.

Pat Flaherty of Chicago, last year's winner who is sidelined with injuries, won $92,819 of the $282,050 purse—both records.

Gettysburg

dialing from the Soldiers National Monument, Col. William G. Weaver, of Gettysburg, was master of ceremonies for that portion of the program.

The National Cemetery ritual, especially written for the observance here, was presented by Chester S. Shriver of the Sons of Veterans; Lawrence M. Sheads of the American Legion; Patrick M. McDermitt, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and William Ziegler a son of a Spanish War veteran.

While the Gettysburg High School band played "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" flowers were strewn on the graves.

Decorate Graves
Approximately 1,000 school children placed flowers on the graves, carrying out a tradition of many years standing. Dr. C. B. Stouffer, a son of a veteran, aided by four teen-age great grandsons of veterans placed flowers on one section of the graves. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H members and Y-Teens put flowers on the graves of the 700 other war dead.

The volley was fired by the firing squad of Post 15, Gettysburg Veterans of Foreign Wars. Taps was sounded by Robert S. Goldner, Gettysburg College student.

The procession then moved to the rostrum at the cemetery where the concluding portion of the program was conducted.

Gen. Willard S. Paul, president of Gettysburg College, was the master of ceremonies. Following the playing of "America" by the Gettysburg Senior High School band, the Rev. Fr. Anthony F. Kane, pastor of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, gave the invocation. Attorney John A. MacPhail recited Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Following a brief ten-minute address by General Thiemer, Rev. Harry L. Fehl, pastor of the EUB Church, gave the benediction and the Blue and Gray Band played the "Star Spangled Banner" to conclude the exercises.

Luncheon At Hotel
General Thiemer flew here from Washington this morning and he and others appearing on the program were guests of the committee at luncheon at the Hotel Gettysburg prior to the services.

The committee for Memorial Day was headed by Chester S. Shriver as general chairman. Representing the Sons of Union Veterans on the committee were Shriver, James I. Rose, G. Henry Roth, Paul A. Snyder, David Tawney, Arthur Warman, Attorney Donald P. McPherson, Attorney Richard A. Brown, Dr. Joseph Riley, Jesse E. Snyder, David Oyler, Wilbur Nett, LeRoy Winebrenner, T. J. Winebrenner and Dr. C. B. Stouffer.

Representing the United States War Veterans were John Zimmerman and Robert Tipton.

Representing the American Legion were Lawrence M. Sheads, Harry D. Ridinger, John S. Rice, Dr. Frederick Tilberg, William G. Weaver and LeRoy Winebrenner.

Representing Post 15 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars were Arthur J. Roth, Francis L. Wisotzky, Wayne Asper, and Robert Swisher. Autos for the speaker, committee and guests were provided by local auto dealers under arrangements made by David Oyler.

Vice chairman for the Memorial Day committee were John Zimmerman, Arthur J. Roth and L. Wrence M. Sheads. Harry D. Ridinger was secretary of the committee.

Len Rosebush led North Carolina's 1957 NCAA basketball champions in scoring with 895 points in 32 games. He averaged almost 28 points a game.

Cities Service (Eckert 0-0 or Nichols 0-0) vs. Elks (Townsend 0-0), 6 p.m.

The Cities Service copped the second game of the "twin-opening" in the Big Little League Wednesday evening by topping the American Legion 8-3 in a loosely played game.

Burgess William G. Weaver tossed out the first ball preceding the start of play.

Cities Service wrapped up the game in the first inning when five runs scored. Nichols and Claybaugh reached base on error. Walks to R. Gastley and Aspers forced in one run and Claybaugh scored on a wild pitch. Coldsmithe was safe on an error as R. Gastley scored. Rudisill walked. Aspers tallied on a wild pitch and Coldsmithe was out trying to score. Rudisill moved to third on the play and ran home on Codori's sacrifice fly. Another run came in the fourth on a single by R. Codori, error, steal of third base, and Dorr's ground-out.

The Legion tabbed two in the fourth. Gary Maitland singled, stole second and ran home on Little's single. The latter stole second base and scored on an error.

Reprieve For Fence

In the sixth Cities Service added a pair. R. Codori and Eckert walked and Claybaugh reached base on an error. Two consecutive wild pitches enabled Codori and Eckert to score. The final Legion run was in the seventh and came via a walk to Knox, wild pitch, and Fox's single.

After the game a meeting was held and it was decided to allow the fences to remain as they are at present until after three more games when a final decision will be made.

Ronnie Aspers, Cities Service pitcher, injured his left ankle during Wednesday's game and was to be x-rayed at the Warner Hospital today.

PHILS SURPRISE AT FIRST 1957 MILEPOST IN CLOSE BATTLE

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
The National League met its first mile post today with the pennant race every bit as close as expected — but where those Philadelphia Phillies doing up there with Cincinnati, Brooklyn and Milwaukee?

To do it, Manager Mayo Smith has blended a so-far-dandy rookie crop with a few old hands for a combination that hasn't done so well against the Redlegs Dodgers or Braves (3-7), but has belted the second-division clubs at a .692 clip (18-8).

Phils Gain Ground
They were at it again yesterday, blowing a 5-1 lead but coming back to score twice in the 10th, with the help of an error, to defeat the New York Giants 7-5. It was Philadelphia's seventh success in the last 10 games.

With the victory, the Phils closed ground on the idle Redlegs, who also saw their lead trimmed to 1½ games over Brooklyn as the Dodgers defeated Pittsburgh 1-0 on an unearned run and Johnny Podres' three-hitter. The Braves also gained with a 6-2 job on the Chicago Cubs.

In the American League, Cleveland's Indians moved into a second-place tie, two games behind first-place Chicago, by defeating the White Sox 8-4 in 10 innings. The New York Yankees gave up a snare of the second spot with a 6-2 defeat at Washington. Detroit moved into fourth place by defeating Kansas City for the first time this season 4-3.

The Boston Red Sox slipped to fifth, losing 3-1 to Baltimore.

FIGHTERS IN HASSLE OVER GYM QUARTERS

DENVER (AP)—A hassle over training quarters left lightweight champion Joe Brown and Orlando Zulueta without a gym to spar in today—three weeks before their title bout here.

They were tossed out of the Denver Elks Building yesterday because of what Vince Hogan, exalted ruler of Lodge No. 17, called "the professional atmosphere."

Hogan's edict caught promoter Joe Dupler by surprise.

"He wouldn't even hold off until Monday," said Dupler. "If I don't get a heart attack before this thing is over, I'll be lucky as hell."

Tangle June 19
But Dupler figured he could acquire use of the YMCA gym, where an official said, "we are assured that the two fighters and their managers are gentlemen and there's no reason why they shouldn't use our facilities."

If that doesn't work out, aides to Dupler were expected to seek use of the gym at Lowry Air Force Base.

Brown and Zulueta tangle in the Denver Coliseum June 19 in this city's first title fight in 39 years.

Although Hogan did not elaborate on his statement, he indicated the two camps had bickered at times, been careless in cleaning up and tried to re-arrange the 18-foot Elks ring to suit themselves.

Carlos Ortiz Runs Win String To 24

CHICAGO (AP)—Carlos Ortiz hopes today to win recognition as a contender for the lightweight championship after his unanimous decision over Felix Chiooca of Paris, France.

The victory last night in the 10-round bout at Chicago Stadium raran Ortiz's undefeated string through 24 bouts.

The 20-year-old Ortiz, a Puerto Rican who lives in New York, displayed aggressiveness and speed, but he couldn't find enough openings in the cagey Chiooca's defense to win more impressively.

Referee Bill Doty saw it 47-43, Judge Frank McAdams 48-43 and Judge Howard Walsh 48-44. The Associated Press card had the fight even, 47 each.

PEDESTRIAN IS KILLED
MIDLAND, Pa. (AP)—The first reported traffic fatality of the Memorial Day holiday in Pennsylvania was reported last night when a pedestrian was fatally hurt when struck by a truck while he was walking along Route 30 about five miles east of the Ohio line in Beaver County.

The victim was identified as Charles C. Wood.

The 61-7 victory Syracuse scored over Colgate last fall was the most decisive Orange triumph in the long football rivalry between the two schools.

The Rotary Tigers continued on their winning ways in the Little League as they copped their third straight win Wednesday evening by edging the Lions 4-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Johnny Longanecker.

The Rotary jumped to a quick one run lead in the bottom of the first inning. Dane Kennel drew a pass and was sacrificed to second on Tommy Collins' perfect bunt.

Jim Davies filed to left while Johnny Holoka took first after being hit by a pitched ball. Larry Eckert then lashed a line single to deep left-center driving in Kennel with the first score.

Three more runs were added by the Tigers in the bottom of the fourth. Holoka got on via an infield miscue, Eckert singled to center, and Mike Flynn walked to load the bases. After an error permitted Holoka to score, Schubart was hit by the pitcher and Kennel walked to force in the second run. Collins singled to left driving in Schubart with the final tally.

unprecedented peacetime effort for defense. It is our intention now to demonstrate through our efforts that the United States is not only determined to maintain the freedom of ourselves and our Allies, but that we are fully capable of accepting any further challenge to that freedom. In this respect, we are still calling on a large body of our nation's wealth and manhood. These resources are now forged into our armed forces.

"Our forces are deployed to face the enemy along the Iron and Bamboo curtains on both sides of the world. In Germany our cavalry regiments, where you may find battle streamers won at Gettysburg, guard the frontier against the Communist bloc. Backing them up is the United States Seventh Army, a modern, well trained, and powerful force acting as a shield which has secured for us and for the peoples of Europe greater benefits than we may ever know. The unprecedented expansion of the Communist threat is being met with worldwide efforts with our skills, materials and the determination of our people that men who desire it must have an opportunity to be free.

Present Danger

"Our great danger today is the comparative quiet and apparent relaxation of the enemy, which bids to drop our guard and to weaken our outposts. The need for courage and perseverance is as great today as it has ever been.

"Our strength and preparedness together with our Allies have secured the free world from the infiltration and creeping advance of an insidious enemy. Strength has been our salvation, and we must not give signs of tiring at this difficult and costly task until the Communists have shown beyond doubt that they have forsaken their predatory designs on the countries, strong or weak, of the free world. Now is the time to reaffirm our resolution and our obligation to our brave comrades who demonstrated how costly it is not to be strong.

Reds Fear Yanks

"As testament to the vigilance of our men around the world and to the deterrent effect of their presence, is the fact that nowhere in the free world has the Communist dared an aggressive move where an American soldier stands in readiness. It is in this manner — this readiness — that today the regiments of Gettysburg are keeping faith with the men who followed the same battle flags to these green hillsides many years ago.

"Today our country is continuing what has been an American legacy begun even before the birth of our nation. Our vigilance and preparedness are carrying on the mission and the charge passed on by succeeding generations of Americans dedicated to the principles and to the freedom established and maintained by those we honor on this Memorial Day. Our fallen comrades, whom we salute, have given us the challenge to preserve our strength, our ideals, and our country. With God's help we will not fail them."

LEADER PINS HOPE ON SENATE IN BUDGET CUT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader today pinned his hopes on the Senate to restore 94½ million dollars in funds chopped out of his budget by the House.

"I urge the Senate to think long and hard before it assumes the responsibility for a disastrous retreat from the principles of good government and plain common sense," he said.

The Republican-controlled House wound up two days of debate on appropriations last night by passing more than 1½ billion dollars in spending bills for the two-year fiscal period starting Saturday.

House Democrats offered 36 amendments—a record high—to the general appropriations bill only to see Republican reject the fund-restoring efforts as rapidly as they developed.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, assistant Democratic floor leader, said the GOP closed "the door of hope."

"We have been deluded by a phrase in the commission of a legislative crime," he said. "The phrase 'hold-the-line' never yet has been advanced by those afraid of advance."

He referred to the GOP policy of insisting that the budget cuts were necessary to keep taxes at existing levels.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, countered that the cuts were "an attempt to bring sense to the state's fiscal scene."

"It is a good budget, a sound budget, a sane budget," he said.

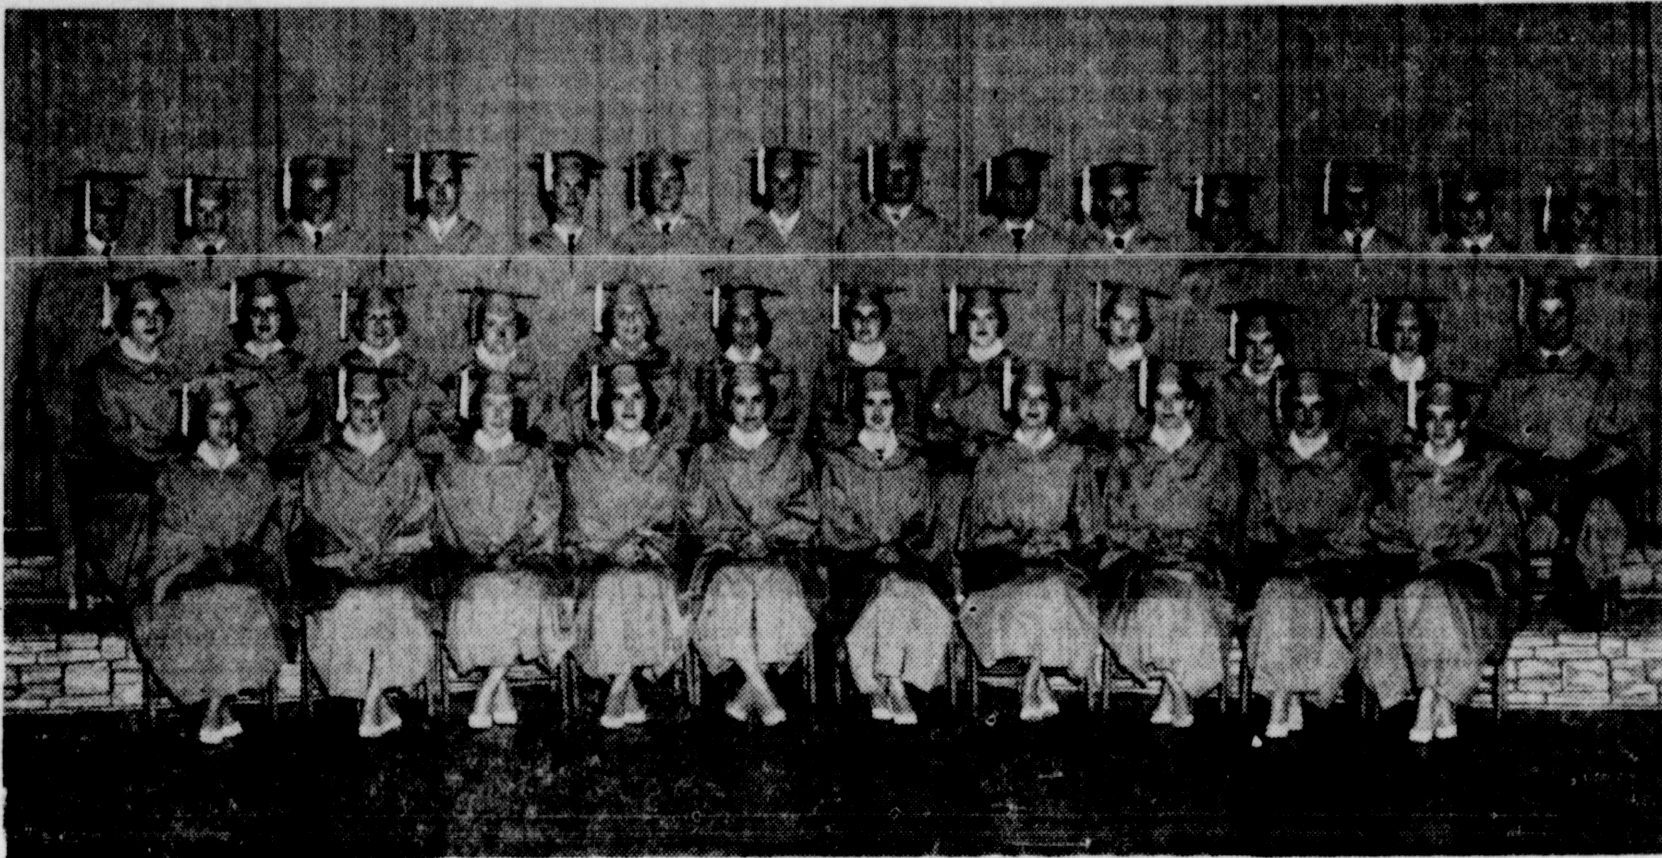

But Democrats blocked action until next week on a string of other so-called non-preferred appropriations that require a two-thirds majority for passage.

They included 46½ millions for state-aided universities, 24 millions for state-aided hospitals and $752,875 for state-aided homes.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, Democratic floor leader, said the delay was necessary "to stop all this rush."

"Let's think about these appropriations a little longer," he said.

NEW SPLIT FOR U.S. AND BRITAIN ON RED TRADE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States reportedly has been defeated in its effort to get Britain to hold the line on special controls on trade with Red China.

The British government is said to have maintained in negotiations at Paris that Red China trade restrictions must be cut back to the lower level of curbs on trade with

"Are they enough?"

Leader, in his statement, said it would be up to the Senate to decide whether to "cripple or destroy" vital state services or continue "many of the constructive achievements" of the past two years.

the Soviet Union and its European satellites.

Authorities here are upset over this new split between London and Washington.

Secretary of State Dulles at his news conference yesterday was asked whether the negotiators in Paris "have reached an impasse."

"I am afraid you may be right," he replied, "and I believe a statement will be made probably tomorrow about it." He declined to give any details.

The Paris negotiations involved 15 countries. These included Japan and the North Atlantic Treaty allies except for Iceland.

The United States itself conducts no trade with Red China. Cooperation of other nations in limiting trade with Red countries is on a voluntary basis.

Britain contends there is no real gain to the free world from banning sale to Red China of goods which it can get by way of Russia.

AGREE ON NEED TO KEEP REINS ON BOMB TESTS

WASHINGTON, May 30 (AP)—Rep. Durham (D-NC) said today a "breakthrough" of scientific agreement on nuclear bomb test dangers may help President Eisenhower win United States participation in an international atomic energy agency.

Scientific witnesses before a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee yesterday agreed in principle there is some level at which bomb tests, which produce radioactive fallout, must be restricted for the safety of mankind. But they differed on when the danger point might be reached.

Made "Break Through" Durham, chairman of the full Atomic Energy Committee, hailed the development and said "we broke through the wall there," adding that "this will help get the atomic agency treaty through the Senate."

He noted that Atomic Energy Commission scientists were among those who joined in the general agreement on ultimate bomb test dangers. Durham said this marked the first approach by that agency to endorsement of weapons test controls.

In general, the AEC has contended that nuclear weapons testing can continue without endangering the public.

The proposed world agency is

CAPEHART RAPS SEN. MORSE FOR INSULTING IKE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Morse (D-Ore) and Capehart (R-Ind) called each other names Tuesday night in a bombastic exchange in the Senate floor.

But after the air cleared, they agreed to strike some of the remarks from the record. Under Senate rules, senators aren't supposed to insult each other.

Morse touched off the exchange in the nearly empty chamber when he took the floor to protest the GOP assault on him last week. That came after he had said President Eisenhower and Teamster Dave Beck are "the same kind of immoralists."

When Morse complained of being misquoted in the earlier Senate debate, Capehart, the only Republican present, rose to say Morse intended to "compare the President with Mr. Beck."

"Intentionally Dishonest" "You knew the press and public would so interpret your remarks—you were intentionally dishonest and immoral in making the statements."

Morse replied he didn't know of anyone whose opinion "I would care less about than the senator from Indiana." Morse then repeated his remarks about Eisenhower. And at one point, the Oregon senator recalled he had once referred to Capehart as "a cup of rancid ignorance."

At times, both senators were shouting, but Morse insisted he made his remarks in "good humor." Sen. Douglas (D-Ill), who was presiding, sought to protest Capehart's remarks about Morse as a violation of Senate rules. But the two senators would not be shushed.

Douglas Is Ignored Capehart told Douglas a presiding officer could not invoke a rule against a senator, and Morse told Douglas he was "always happy to join insults with the senator from Indiana."

Later, Morse suggested he and Capehart enter a "gentleman's agreement" to withdraw their remarks that were in violation of the rules. Capehart then asked if Morse would withdraw his remarks about the President.

When Morse declined, Capehart retorted that his earlier comments about Morse were "not strong enough."

Strike Some Remarks At this point, Douglas noted the rule against Senate insults applies only to other senators, and not to presidents.

Finally, Morse said he would strike from the record one of his comments about Capehart which Morse said was "uncalled for."

And Capehart said he had no objection to doing the same. The Indiana lawmaker then said again he still wished Morse would apologize to the President. But Morse replied he had no intention of doing that.

Abbottstown

ABBOTTSTOWN—Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Stambaugh attended the recent service at the York Fairgrounds when Dr. Norman Vincent Peale was the speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Spangler and Mrs. Naomi Meckly spent Sunday in Lancaster visiting Franklin and Marshall College.

The local post office will close all day on Memorial Day.

Mrs. Elmer Crowl has been discharged from the York Hospital.

ABBOTTSTOWN—Willis Eisenhart and his sister, Miss Elsie Eisenhart, this place, and Mr. and Mrs. William Fishel, York, attended the Shippensburg Alumni meeting, at State College Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Faber Wildasin, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wildasin, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Anthony, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hafer spent some time recently at Atlantic City.

Forty-eight people from Abbottstown made a trip to Ephrata, points of interest in the Amish section, and Harrisburg. The bus trip was sponsored by the Ever Ready class of the Reformed Sunday School.

OUTFIT TRAINS EXECUTIVES TO SUPPLY NEEDS

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitts the executive. Although he lives plushly, he frequently changes jobs—often under pressure—and walks a tight rope between success and failure.

To be a success, he must work more for love than money, says Lon D. Barton, 50, president of a clearing house for executives. His employment agency furnishes executive talent to industry throughout the country.

"If he works for money only, the executive is headed for trouble with his stomach and early retirement," says Barton.

"If he works for love of his job and the people around him, the money will come and he'll live happily."

Placing young executive talent in key spots at the rate of $5,000 a year, Barton's staff of 60 experts has seen executives come and go, rise and fall. Today the demand is for industrial executives with experience in the engineering fields—mechanical, electrical and aeronautic.

Get Good Jobs

If they have specialized in sales, production or engineering design and rated in the upper half of their college class, it's a good bet that they'll land a job paying $10,000 a year, within 3½ years from the time they graduate.

The man specializing in sales will have a much better chance of entering top management because 80 per cent of the executives arrived by this route.

Barton says an executive doesn't become a "big shot" until he reaches the $15,000 to $20,000-a-year bracket. But only one in 10 $15,000 per year jobs are worth taking because frequently the company offering it does not possess stature in its industry.

SALTY TOP—Coiffure depicting American Revolutionary War naval battle is worn at Paris dinner honoring bicentennial of birth of Gen. Lafayette. Hair-do, first worn during the 18th Century, was "recreated" for affair.

Emmitsburg 107 RECEIVE DEGREES FROM MOUNT JUNE 5

HOUSE DECISION REBUFF FOR IKE ON DEFENSE CUT

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a major rebuff to President Eisenhower, the House has decided that the Defense Department can get along on $3,562,725,000 in new appropriations next year.

That's $2,565,275,000 less than the President had requested and $1,200,000,000 below what he pleaded with his House leaders to try to restore to the bill.

The House sent the biggest money bill of the year to the Senate yesterday by a roll call vote of 394-1. The lone dissenter was Rep. Canfield (R-N.J.), who objected to the deep cut.

Hopes Not Bright
In doing so, the House ignored Eisenhower's warning that if the $1,200,000,000 cut, aircraft procurement and guided missile development would suffer. The President made no fight for $1,300,000,000 of the cut, describing it as a "bookkeeping operation."

With an economy drive in full swing in the Senate, as well as in the House, it appeared that Eisenhower's hopes for winning his battle there were none too bright.

"If It's Necessary"
However, Sen. Chavez (D-NM), chairman of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee which has been studying the defense money requests, said that "if it is necessary in the interest of national security to restore the House cuts, all or in part, I am confident that this committee will do it."

The House hurled back every attempt by Republicans to increase amounts recommended by the Appropriations Committee. The big test came on a move to add $13 million dollars which the House previously had denied in piecemeal fashion. It was beaten on a roll call vote 242-151.

Voting to add the $13 million dollars were 140 Republicans and 11 Democrats. Opposing it were 39 Republicans and 203 Democrats.

Old Monoplane Crashes In Field

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A Philadelphia salesman flying an old time monoplane was caught in a downdraft as he circled over a farm near here last night and crashed in an open field after narrowly missing a barn.

The farmer, his brother and a neighbor worked for 20 minutes to free Lawrence P. Raab, 33, from the wrecked plane, an open cockpit, two-seat, low wing Ryan. He was taken to Phoenixville Hospital with cuts and bruises and possible head injuries.

Never waste the brown residue that sticks to the skillet when you are cooking chicken in a small amount of fat. After the chicken pieces are removed, add a little liquid to the pan and stir and scrape (with a wooden spoon) over low heat to dissolve the residue. Then strain and use as natural gravy, or thicken for a regular gravy or sauce.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—For years it seemed that when Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey finally quit and went back to private life he would be remembered as the strong, silent type. Not any more. Strong, maybe. But not silent.

True, he made speeches and talked with newsmen in the more than four years he was the government's top money man. But he had brains and self-control. He never made a clown of himself. And he never caused explosions.

That is, he never caused an explosion until almost the very end of his career in Eisenhower's Cabinet. He's quitting now. Perhaps in two months. But right near the end, with only a few words, he kicked up the prize storm of 1957.

Myth Destroyed
That destroyed any myth about his silence. And he did it in a way that made him sound like a man fed up with the way things were going. He blamed himself, the administration, and the public in general.

To see the kind of mood he got himself into it is necessary to go back to the first big speech he made after becoming secretary in 1953. He was full of optimism then. This country was at war in Korea, but he said:

"There is no reason to fear peace. We are not headed for depression. . . . We are not going to have a depression in America whether we have an armistice, a real peace, or continue to develop a proper and balanced posture of defense."

Peace-time Record
But, as custodian of the American money bag, he warned them, as he did later, that government spending would have to come down, and taxes, too, but both together.

The years passed. Spending dipped for a while. Congress put through a tax cut, but left taxes high. And government spending started up again. This year the 72 billion dollar budget Eisenhower offered was a record for peace-time.

The day the budget was announced Humphrey talked with reporters. What he said caused confusion for weeks and gave a head-start encouragement to those inside and outside Congress who wanted to chop the budget to bits.

Seemed To Invite Cuts
First, he said the budget was tight as the administration could

MISSING BOY IS FOUND AFTER 44 DAYS IN N.Y.C.

CHICAGO (AP)—Vittorio Barattieri, 14, son of the Italian consul general in Chicago, who was found in New York City yesterday after a nationwide search for 44 days, talked to his parents from an FBI office last night.

But his mother, Countess Olga Barattieri, at first said she didn't believe the telephone caller was her son — she thought it was a prankster.

Miss Armida Frank, 44, nurse to the Barattieri children at the consulate, said the countess at first refused to talk to the caller.

Finally Convinced
Then, she said, an unidentified FBI agent convinced her that it was her son calling.

Vittorio had been missing 44 days, since April 16, when he failed to arrive at classes at Loyola Academy.

"He's a very good boy," she said. "He never ran away before, in this country or Italy. I guess maybe he wanted to see a little of America."

Pvt. Ferdinand Chudy of the U. S. Army recently completed his tour of duty in Iceland. He requested to be sent to "someplace in the south." He had had enough of cold weather. His new orders assign him to the ice breaker Glacier at the South Pole.

CRITICISM ON LICENSING OF LABOR CAMPS FOR MIGRANTS

HARRISBURG (AP)—A special advisory board appointed by Gov. Leader tentatively recommended Wednesday that migrant labor camps be licensed annually by the commonwealth.

The recommendation, part of a 29-page tentative revision of state regulations for migratory farm labor camps, immediately brought criticism from two sources at a public hearing.

"We're not seeking a knock-down fight over this but we would like to have rules and regulations under which the growers can live," declared Robert R. Lewis of Condersport.

Not Justifiable

"We prefer to see rules not subject to modification by one man because we have seen too many abuses in the past," he added.

C. M. Wilson, secretary of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Assn., declared, "We do not believe it is justifiable to place more severe restrictions on those farmers who are presently doing a creditable job."

He said that his group is "perfectly willing" to cooperate in every possible way "to help eliminate the small per cent of undesirable conditions that will inevitably develop from time to time."

He told the 10-man board that a great majority of farm labor camps are being operated "decently" and in a manner which he believes to be satisfactory.

Would Apply To All

The tentative draft of new regulations would apply to every migrant farm labor camp in the state.

Every camp obtaining a one-year license would be subject to its loss after a hearing "for failure to continue compliance."

Gov. Leader appointed the group, headed by Dr. Jesse Reber, Harrisburg, to "protect the rights of migratory laborers."

Lewis criticized specifically proposed rules that would permit revocation of the license at any time, requiring mothers and wives to obtain health permits in order to do cooking, and require extensive screening on houses used by laborers.

HAS NO FEAR OF RADIATION FROM STRONTIUM 90

WASHINGTON (AP)—An atomic Energy Commission official said Wednesday an American will get far less radiation from strontium 90 produced by bomb tests than from natural causes.

Merrill Eisenbud, manager of the New York AEC operations office, said "conservative" estimates ran from 1 1/2 to 18 per cent of the natural dosage affecting a man who lives 70 years. Strontium 90, which can cause bone cancer, is one of the delayed products of an H-bomb explosion.

His testimony was prepared for a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee studying the effects of fall-out—the particles which are hurled into the air when an atomic weapon is exploded and which sit down later.

Other Viewpoints

The subcommittee got these viewpoints Tuesday:

1. An estimate from Charles Shafer, Weather Bureau meteorologist assigned to the Civil Defense Administration, that 82 million people might be killed if an enemy attacked the United States with 250 H-bombs equivalent to a total of 2 1/2 billion tons of TNT. Shafer said "we were advised"—he did not say by whom—that an enemy might be able to undertake such an attack by 1950.

2. A report by Dr. Lyle T. Alexander of the Department of Agriculture that radioactive material will continue to increase in the soil if weapons tests continue. Since 1953, he said, strontium 90 in vegetation has increased in proportion to the increase in fall-out.

Teen-ager Seeks Exaggerated Copy

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—A 14-year-old boy entered the newsroom of the Durham Morning Herald and asked to see the newspaper files of World War II.

"I've read about it in history books and I want to see how the newspapers wrote it," the lad explained.

A reporter showed him the files and said, "Let me know what you think of it."

An hour later the boy came out of the library, regarded the reporter accusingly and said, "I think you exaggerated it."

ENTERPRISE

HENNESSEY, OKLA. (AP)—Lee Enix has started a new business here because his small son needed goat milk and none was available.

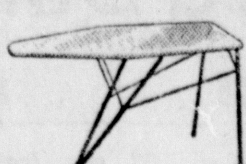

He bought a goat, and then the news spread. Several persons asked to buy milk and before he knew it, Enix had a herd of 13 goats and a thriving milk business.
